

CPYRGHT

DANA B. DURAND

Dana B. Durand was born in Washington, D. C. in 1904. He graduated from Harvard University in 1925, studied at Oxford (1925-26) and received a Ph.D. degree from Harvard in 1935. He was an instructor, tutor and assistant professor of History and Literature at Harvard 1926-1940, and associate professor of History at Mount Holyoke College, 1941-1942. He is the author of a book and numerous papers on the history of science in the Middle Ages and Renaissance. He joined OSS in 1942, was commissioned in the Army in 1943, served with various OSS field detachments in England, Italy, France, Belgium, and Germany before being discharged as a Lt. Colonel in 1946. He was in charge of the CIA base in Berlin until 1949, and in 1950 acted as a CIA consultant and Chief of Operations to the Directors of Intelligence of CINCEUR and of HICOG. Since July 1950 he has been with the Office of Special Operations in Washington.